Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
 - If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
 - If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
 - Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133).
- Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. Applicant is advised that should claims 27, 37 and 38 be found allowable, claims 39-41 will be objected to under 37 CFR 1.75 as being a substantial duplicate thereof. When two claims in an application are duplicates or else are so close in content that they both cover the same thing, despite a slight difference in wording, it is proper after allowing one claim to object to the other as being a substantial duplicate of the allowed claim. See MPEP § 706.03(k).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 27,37-41 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kim et al (6,470,135) .

Art Unit: 2616

Regarding claims 27 and 37-41, Kim discloses an apparatus (Figs. 1, 3-5), column 3, lines 15-68) for recording and reproducing information on and from a recording medium, the recording medium information comprises data area for storing the stream data (column 3, lines 30-50)), the stream data comprises a third data unit define a stream object, second data unit defines a stream object unit and first data unit defines a data packet of transport packets, the second data unit includes header information including time-related information (arrival time stamp information) of the first data unit area unit (Fig. 3). An arrival time block is considered as a header for a packet since the arrival time is placed at the front of a corresponding data packet and used for controlling the corresponding packet.

Kim further teaches recording management information used for access the stream information during a reproduction mode on a management area (column 5, lines 38-50). Further Kim teaches reproducing means for reproducing the recorded data from the medium (column 5, lines 60-68, column 7)..

Applicant argues that Kim does not teach that the header information recorded in a data area that is different from a management area. In response, the examiner disagrees. Kim teaches that the stream information is recorded on a data area and the management information is recorded in a management area (column 5, lines 40-50).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 2616

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 27 and 37-41 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hiroshima et al (5,801,781) in view of Miwa (6,285,825).

Regarding claims 27 and 37-38 and 42, Hiroshima discloses an apparatus (Figs. 5-7; column 6) for recording and reproducing stream information on and from a data area of recording medium (column 13 lines 60-68, column 14, lines 47-50), the stream information comprises a third data unit defines a stream object (stream program), the third data unit comprises a second data unit defining a data unit of a stream object unit (a pack), the second data unit comprises a first data unit defining a data unit of a transport packet (Figs. 6,7), the second data unit includes a header information (presentation time stamp and decoding time stamp) including time-related information of the first data unit.

Hiroshima fails to teach recording management information in a management area of the recording medium.

Miwa teaches a recording/ reproducing apparatus having a control means for generating management information used for accessing the stream object and for recording the management information in a management area of a medium that is different from a data area (Fig. 14, column 16, lines 30-65).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify Hiroshima with Miwa by providing the apparatus of Hiroshima with a control means as taught by Miwa for generating management information and recording the management information in a management area different from the data area in order to facilitate accessing the stream information during a reproduction mode .

Conclusion

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
